(Optional) Following an old English tradition, dinner without ties at the Mitre pub, where Winston Churchill, Sir Paul McCartney, Elizabeth Taylor and other celebrities would come in from time to time. The history of The Mitre starts in the 13th century: the pub was opened in 1261 and restored in May 2007. This, the most cosy and famous pub of the city, offers the best sorts of English, Irish, Danish, German, Belgian and Dutch beer and fabulous cuisine.
